INSPIRED HOMES

Stuart Leslie
Head of Residential Sales
Savills Guernsey

Welcome to the latest edition of Inspired Homes, a publication brought to you by Savills. In these pages you will find everything you need to know about Guernsey's property market – from the latest commentary and analysis, through to a selection of the finest homes for sale.

The island's property landscape has proved resilient in recent months - with prices on the Local Market rising since the start of the year and signs that sentiment is beginning to improve on the Open Market.

Looking ahead, the UK's Autumn Budget will be important in determining how the rest of 2025 pans out. Future cuts to interest rates and loosened mortgage criteria should help increase transactions – but fears over US trading policy and a number of global conflicts have potential to knock confidence.

Consequently, both the Local and Open Markets are likely to be finely balanced as we head into September and beyond (read more analysis on pages 2 and 3).

We will be giving a further update on the market at the Relocate Guernsey Show in London in October - an event organised by Locate Guernsey for people thinking of moving to the island. In preparation, Locate Guernsey director Jo Stoddart shares some of her top tips for anyone making the switch (pages 4 and 5).

Elsewhere in this issue, we learn more about Vraic – an exciting new dining experience that has opened its doors to Chouet Bay (page 31), and we talk to Susie Hunt from Guernsey Motor Neurone about our great new charity partnership (pages 32 and 33).

Savills remains the only Channel Islands property agency with a truly global reach, with more than 40,000 professionals collaborating across over 70 countries, delivering unrivalled coverage and expertise to the world of prime residential and commercial real estate.

By utilising our industry leading research, complemented by expert local advice that's tailored to individual needs we help our clients to make better property decisions and bring their aspirations to life – while also ensuring access to the widest pool of buyers and tenants possible.

If you are thinking of buying, selling, renting or letting – or would simply like some advice on latest market conditions – we would be delighted to hear from you. Visit us at Royal Terrace on Glatigny Esplanade, call (+44 1481) 713463 or email guernseyinfo@savills.com

Property snap shot

Our experts discuss recent trends in the Guernsey property markets

Nick Paluch

Director

Residential Sales

As summer draws to a close and we head into autumn the housing market is presenting both challenges and opportunities.

Whether planning to buy, sell, or simply wanting to stay informed, understanding the property landscape is more important than ever.

Both the Local and Open Markets in Guernsey have remained resilient, with competitively priced, well-presented homes generating strong interest.

Resilient performance

According to the latest States of Guernsey property bulletin, the average property price for the Local Market had risen to £596,573 in the three months to the end of June – 2.8% higher than the beginning of spring and 1.5% higher than the same period in 2024.

195

Local Market sales in the second quarter of 2025 – 50 more than 2024.

The number of sales completed on the Local Market also increased – rising to 195 between April and June. This is 29 more than the previous quarter and 50 more than the same period last year.

Local Market mix adjusted average purchase price

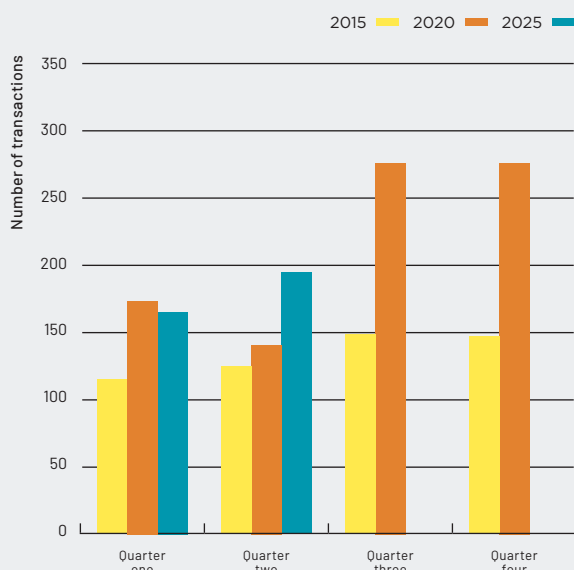

On the Open Market there were 12 sales in the three months to June, compared to 16 between January and March. The average price also dropped slightly year on year to a little over £1.5m – compared to £1.8m in the second quarter of 2024.

Source: States of Guernsey Quarterly Property Bulletin Q2 2025.

Number of Local Market transaction by quarter

Five year intervals

Positive steps

These figures are obviously a few months behind where we're currently at – and the markets have been a little up and down over the summer – but there are reasons to be optimistic.

£596,573

Average Local Market price in the three months to June 2025 – 1.8% higher than 2024.

12

Open Market sales in the three months to June 2025.

The market is not without its nuances. Properties requiring significant renovation are taking longer to sell. Conversely, well-maintained homes are commanding premiums, reflecting a shift in buyer priorities toward sustainability and long-term value.

Savills has also revised its five year house price forecasts for the UK due to less market activity.

But prices in the Local Market appear to have recovered from the start of the year and lower interest rates have helped generate more movement. It is worth noting, however, that the recent price increase is still less than Retail Prices Index (RPI).

The Open Market has perhaps not been quite as busy as we expected – particularly in light of changes to inheritance and capital gains tax in the UK – but we may well see more promising buyer sentiment over the coming months.

Market outlook

The Autumn Budget will be important in determining how the rest of the year pans out.

Future cuts to interest rates and possibilities of relaxed mortgage criteria should ease some concerns – but fears about US trading policy and global conflicts have the potential to knock confidence.

Consequently, both the Local and Open Markets are likely to be finely balanced as we head into September and beyond.

Whether moving on-island or from elsewhere, people from all walks of life continue to appreciate what Guernsey has to offer.

Sellers are advised to price realistically, while buyers should be prepared to act decisively when the right property comes along. In both cases a degree of compromise may well be required to achieve a successful result.

Thinking of moving to Guernsey? Here's what you need to know

Savills Guernsey head of residential sales, Stuart Leslie, speaks to Jo Stoddart, director of relocation specialists Locate Guernsey, about her top tips for anyone moving to the island.

SL: Not everyone will be aware that Guernsey has two property markets. Which buyers do you deal with most?

JS: The vast majority of relocators come to live on the Open Market – properties that are available to everyone so long as they have a UK or Irish passport or Right of Abode or Settled/Pre-settled status. There is no minimum wealth requirement or minimum spend on a property. It's incredibly straightforward.

SL: How many times would you recommend people visit ahead of a move?

JS: Relocating is a big life decision. It's important to get a feel for the island. Drive around to look at different areas and stay for a few days. Each time you visit you'll discover something new and it will inevitably help you to refine your ideas about location and the type and style of property you want. Don't try to cram too many viewings into one day.

SL: When it comes to the move, what are the practicalities around removals?

JS: Items need to be export wrapped as they will be shipped to the island and then loaded onto smaller lorries. It's important everything is fully insured for replacement value and also worth using a Guernsey removal firm with contacts or offices in the UK. If you book the removal in Guernsey the cost is free of VAT.

SL: How far in advance should people apply for schools if moving with children?

JS: For private colleges it's recommended parents contact them as soon as possible to determine whether they have places in the right year groups. State schools however are allocated by catchment area – so you will need to have had an offer accepted on a home and know where you will be living. You can then apply to the education department up to three months before children are due to start.

SL: If moving for work purposes is a lot of the paperwork arranged by the employer?

JS: Every employer is different. You may be entitled to a relocation allowance, for example. Some firms will give you a lump sum to spend how you see fit; others will pay for a property finder to assist you or provide you with practical help as you move; some will have dedicated in-house staff. If you are entitled to an Employment Permit, the firm will do some of the paperwork, but the final part needs to be done by the individual. If you require a visa, ask for help from your HR team.

SL: What about bringing a vehicle? Do they need to be registered?

JS: Yes. Your first registration fee will depend on the size of the engine and how much of a pollutant the vehicle is considered to be. You also need to exchange your driving licence for a Guernsey one. If you leave it longer than 12 months you will have to re-take your driving test.

SL: What about healthcare?

JS: Once you have registered with the Revenue Service and have your GY (social security) number you can register with a GP practice. However,

Guernsey's primary care system is private, so GP appointments have to be paid for. Secondary care is available free of charge if a GP refers the patient. If you already have private healthcare you should check if your policy will cover you in Guernsey. Your employer may also offer private healthcare.

SL: How about moving with pets?

JS: The vast majority of domestic animals can be brought without any difficulties.

SL: Is there anything else that people should know?

JS: Once you move you'll need to make a Guernsey will. A will from elsewhere will not be valid for any Guernsey-based assets such as your home or any monies held here. Often the advocate dealing with the property purchase can do this as part of the service.

SL: And finally... what would be your one piece of advice once someone has moved to the island?

JS: Get out and about and accept as many invitations as possible. Guernsey is extremely friendly and people will welcome you to the community. Locate Guernsey hosts a series of 'settling-in' events which are a really nice way to meet new people.

GUERNSEY

A DESTINATION OF CHOICE

Guernsey offers more than just scenic coastlines and a relaxed island lifestyle—it presents, for many, a compelling fiscal opportunity. With no capital gains tax, no inheritance tax, caps on personal income tax, and a headline 0% rate for Guernsey companies, Guernsey can be attractive for those looking to optimise their financial affairs. With a politically stable environment, high-quality healthcare and close proximity to the UK, it's clear why many high-net wealth individuals choose to make Guernsey their home.

Tax Capping for Guernsey Residents:

Depending on an individual's Guernsey tax residence classification there are various tax caps available:

- > Open Market Cap - £60,000. Available for the first four years of Guernsey residence. Requires the purchase of an open market property within 12 months before or after becoming tax resident. The purchase must generate minimum document duty or anti-avoidance duty of £50,000 (property cost of approximately £1.4m).
- > Foreign income tax cap - £160,000. For non-Guernsey source income only. Guernsey source income remains subject to 20% tax. Guernsey bank interest is not considered Guernsey source.
- > Annual tax cap - £320,000. A global cap utilised by individuals with substantial Guernsey source income.
- > The "Standard Charge". Currently £40,000 per annum and is available by election in place of worldwide income disclosure, for those who are broadly "part-time" tax resident on the Island.

Guernsey (including Alderney) property income and withdrawals from Guernsey pensions, are taxable in addition to the tax caps.

Other potential benefits:

There are other significant tax incentives for Guernsey residents:

- > Capital Gains Tax - Guernsey has no CGT. Non-UK residents are also outside the scope of UK CGT on most disposals (excluding direct and indirect disposals of UK land and property).
- > Inheritance Tax - Guernsey does not levy inheritance, wealth or estate taxes. Long term non-residents of the UK are also outside the scope of IHT on most non-UK assets. A long-term non-UK resident is broadly one who has been non-UK tax resident for 10 complete UK tax years (this period is reduced in some circumstances).
- > Company Taxation - The Guernsey company tax rate is 0%. For UK companies where shareholder control is in Guernsey, there is the ability to claim double tax relief for UK Corporation tax paid. Dividends paid to Guernsey (and not UK) tax residents are also, for the most part, exempt from UK tax.
- > Pensions - The potential to receive UK pension income, including a lifetime flexible drawdown, free from UK tax. UK pensions come into scope of UK IHT from 2027 so this is perhaps of even greater benefit to Guernsey residents.

LTS Tax Limited, registered with the Chartered Institute of Taxation, is an independent and leading tax practice in Guernsey. The team is qualified to provide UK and Guernsey tax advice and would be pleased to discuss UK and Guernsey tax matters with you.

From Guernsey with love

Inspired Homes speaks to chef Nathan Davies about his new restaurant Vraic, which opened its doors to Chouet Bay this summer.

“Given our beautiful location right next to the beach we wanted to create a dining experience connected to the island’s landscape – one that’s focused on sustainability and using local, well-grown ingredients,” says chef Nathan Davies when talking about his latest venture.

Overlooking Chouet Bay and named after the Guernésiais word for seaweed, Vraic opened its doors in mid-July.

The 28-cover restaurant champions the Bailiwick’s rich and bountiful produce, with a particular focus on local fish, shellfish and the diverse seaweeds that flourish along Guernsey’s coastline.

With the help of Savills, Nathan and his wife Hollie – who is also operations manager at the venue – moved to Guernsey from Wales in April with their family.

“There’s a real pride here in what’s grown and harvested locally, and that’s exactly what we want to celebrate at Vraic”, Nathan says.

“It has to be delicious and balanced, but it also has to reflect our values of working with nature and wasting as little as possible.”

“It’s taken a lot of work to get here, and we’ve faced a few challenges along the way, but we’re now open, back in the game, and can’t wait to share what we’ve created.”

Nathan, who has a passion for fire led cooking and foraging, was previously the visionary behind SY23 in Aberystwyth, which earned a Michelin star and was crowned ‘Opening of the Year’ in the 2022 Michelin Guide alongside making the Good Food Guide’s Top 20 Most Exciting Restaurants.

At the heart of Vraic is an open kitchen with Basque-inspired grill where the team craft a seasonal 10–12 course tasting menu served in single settings for dinner (7.30pm Wednesday to Saturday) and for lunch (1pm Thursday to Saturday).

“There’s a real pride here in what’s grown and harvested locally, and that’s exactly what we want to celebrate at Vraic.”

From utilising local producers, such as Surf & Turf, suppliers of premium shellfish and fish, to vegetables sourced from The Soil Farm, Guernsey’s regenerative farm, the menu celebrates local goods, while weaving in inspiration from Nathan’s Welsh heritage.

A signature example is the lightly grilled local lobster tail, paired with seaweed harvested from the same bay. The open-fire grill lends a smokiness to the lobster’s natural sweetness, enriched by a brown butter sauce made with Guernsey dairy, with the seaweed bringing a subtle umami note.

As well as the menu, the restaurant’s interiors also take inspiration from its coastal setting and draw on local heritage – including granite signage sourced from a nearby quarry and an impressive custom-made chandelier modelled on Guernsey’s shoreline seaweed.

Guests can enjoy pre-or post-dinner drinks on the front terrace complete with fire pits and sheepskin rugs, or upstairs, with panoramic views of Chouet Bay.

Savills signs up to support Guernsey Motor Neurone

Savills is delighted to be partnering with Guernsey Motor Neurone (GMN) as one of our charities of the year.

The residential sales team will donate a portion of its fees to GMN in 2025 – helping them to deliver care and support for anyone living with Motor Neurone Disease (MND) on the island, as well as their carers and families.

The registered charity works alongside local health professionals including occupational therapists, physiotherapists, MND nursing teams and speech therapists to provide services for people diagnosed with MND and their loved ones.

They also have a well-stocked equipment store from which they loan out much needed apparatus free of charge – everything from armchairs, ramps and hoists through to fully powered wheelchairs, electric beds and bathing aids.

Other services include support and advice for home adaptations – such as help getting upstairs or creating a downstairs bathroom or wet room – and providing assistance for those with MND who visit the island.

GMN's publicity officer Susie Hunt (pictured above) returned to Guernsey after her sister was diagnosed with MND in 2022.

"Most of us [at the charity] have a very personal link to the disease – that's our motivation for wanting to raise the profile and provide as much support as possible," she said.

"MND is relentless and a diagnosis can be traumatic and overwhelming, but there are many avenues of support available.

"Access to the right equipment and home aids, for example, can have an enormous impact on both the physical and mental wellbeing of those with MND.

"Our equipment store stocks a huge array of supplies to take away some of the strain and worry – and if we don't have what someone needs, we'll try and source it.

"I'd encourage anyone who might need our help or would simply like more information on how we can assist to get in touch."

Commenting on the support the charity receives locally, Susie continued: "We are indebted to everyone who holds fundraising events for GMN – however large or small.

"The Big Hour in February was particularly amazing – with people encouraged to give up their time to teach something, hold an activity class or volunteer in exchange for a donation.

"It was a huge success and we raised £30,000. We're planning to hold it again next year – so watch this space.

"We are so grateful for everyone's help and to businesses like Savills for their ongoing support. It helps us to raise money, but just as importantly, it helps us to raise awareness so that we can make the lives of those who are diagnosed with this terrible disease more bearable."

Stuart Leslie, head of residential sales at Savills Guernsey, added: "We're looking forward to helping Guernsey Motor Neurone raise much needed funds throughout the year, as well as increasing awareness of what they do and the devastating effects MND can have.

"It's a charity that's important to a lot of people and one which provides much needed support and assistance for so many individuals and families across the island."

Daisy and Tom's story

Daisy was diagnosed with motor neurone disease in June 2020 at just 33 years of age.

Her symptoms started as what felt like a strained neck and shoulder. By January 2021 she needed a wheelchair and had started using a ventilator to help her breathe.

Now unable to move other than her eyes and mouth for talking, Daisy relies on her husband Tom for absolutely everything, along with a band of carers made up of family and friends.

But she's defying the normal progression of the disease. Her symptoms haven't deteriorated any further for two years and even the specialists are amazed her MND seems to have plateaued.

Tom and Daisy are both from Guernsey and met while working in the UK. As her symptoms have plateaued, Daisy is facing a much longer future, which throws up different challenges.

Now 37, Daisy says: "There's no point in feeling angry or resentful - I'd make myself and everyone around me miserable. I feel like this is the card I've been dealt and I have to make the most of it. We go out, have friends round, we're always busy.

"There's nothing we can't do that we did before apart from going abroad. Everything just takes a lot of planning, some ramps and a bit of help here and there. You've got to count every day as a blessing."

Fundraisers step out for charity

Record breaking numbers put their best foot forward for this year's Saffery Rotary Walk - supported by Savills Guernsey.

From early morning until late evening, walkers of all ages and abilities stepped out to support 25 local charities.

The walk is organised by Guernsey's two Rotary Clubs and is one of the island's most popular charity events. A record-breaking 1,200 participants took part this year - with Savills sponsoring a feed station at Le Gouffre.

The main walk began at 4.30am from the Guernsey Information Centre, with individuals and relay teams joining along the 39-mile route. The final checkpoint at the Liberation Monument stayed open until 10pm to welcome the last finishers, many of whom completed the full island circuit.
